

LESLIE GERHART

A Bethlehem native, Leslie's work has been featured in various galleries, magazines, and newspapers in PA and out of state. She's primarily an acrylic painter, but works in all mediums. Much of her work is inspired by nature and mythology.

She has instructed over a hundred workshops for adults, kids and also focuses on classes for the chronically ill, as she has MS herself. Her feisty personality truly shines when she's teaching. She's currently working on illustrating a book, and a series of large mixed media paintings.

She's the kind of artist who always has paint on her hands and clothes, adores meeting new people and making personal connections with each and every new friend.
